The Ginger On The Beach

A travel-savvy second opinion before you take off.

Stop Second-Guessing Your Trip

You've put real time into planning this trip. Before you finalize anything, let me take a look. I review itineraries with the kind of honest, experienced eye a well-traveled friend would bring — catching pacing issues, flagging logistics that look fine on paper but rarely work in practice, and making sure you're not leaving something important on the table.

There are no commissions, no upsells, and no agenda. Just straightforward feedback on your specific trip so you can head out feeling confident. You keep full control of your bookings, your loyalty points, and your decisions.

REVIEW OPTIONS

Essential Review
$99
One straightforward itinerary, up to 10 travel days

Enhanced Review
$149
Longer or more detailed trips; multiple transitions

Complex Review
$199+
Multi-city or logistically involved travel; custom quote

Starting rates. Your final price is confirmed after I review your trip details — no payment required to request a quote.

What Your Review May Include

- Assessment of daily pacing and realistic travel time
- Transportation and routing considerations
- Potential scheduling conflicts to flag
- Suggestions to improve the flow of your trip
- A written assessment with prioritized recommendations

How It Works

1. Submit your itinerary
   Share your plans, destinations, dates, and any specific questions.
2. Receive a quote
   I confirm the scope, price, and delivery date before any payment.
3. Get your written feedback
   Your review is delivered electronically by the agreed date.

Everything is done by email — no calls or appointments required. Work begins after scope, price, and delivery date are confirmed and payment is received. Recommendations do not guarantee third-party prices, schedules, or availability; verify critical details before travel. Travel insurance is strongly encouraged.
